

VETERANS PLAN FOR ENCAMPMENT

Committees Chosen to Arrange for Bi-ennial Meeting in July.

Chairmen for the several committees, who will have charge of the bi-ennial encampment of the Army and Navy Union to be held in Washington beginning July 17, were selected at a meeting in O. A. R. Hall last night. The executive committee was formed into a permanent organization, and meetings will be held every Saturday evening until the encampment.

Capt. J. Walter Mitchell, commander of the Department of the District Spanish War Veterans, who conducted the most successful encampment ever given by that organization, was unanimously selected as permanent chairman of the executive committee. Captain Mitchell will have entire charge of the arrangements.

Immediately after his election to the chairmanship, Captain Mitchell asked the committeemen to give him their best support and exert every effort to make this the largest and best encampment yet and entertain the visiting soldiers as they should be entertained. He fixed Saturday night as the time for the meetings because he believed the committeemen could spare more time then and devote their best energies to the task in hand.

Tomorrow afternoon the committeemen will meet in Captain Mitchell's home, 821 Third street northwest, to map out a tentative program for the encampment.

Commander R. C. Galbraith, of Col. Theodore Roosevelt Garrison, who presided at the meeting last night prior to Captain Mitchell's election, was chosen as secretary of the committee. Abraham Hart, formerly commander of the Department of the District Spanish War Veterans, was elected treasurer. Mr. Hart was tendered a vote of thanks for his financial assistance to the committee.

Captain Mitchell appointed chairmen for four sub-committees. They are: Commander Thacker E. Lee, Admiral Porter Garrison, chairman of finance committee; Commander W. T. Conroy, Guy V. Henry Garrison, chairman of committee on hall or place of meeting; Commander George L. Snider, Roosevelt Garrison, chairman of committee on entertainment; and Charles W. Bush, Porter Garrison, chairman of committee on badges.

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS TO JAMESTOWN FAIR

To commemorate the final settlement at Jamestown, there will be a special illumination of the fair buildings and the many warships assembled in Hampton Roads, at Jamestown Exposition, the coming Monday evening. Passengers from this city via the Norfolk and Washington, steamers sailing Sunday will have an excellent chance to see the illuminations, as the steamers will make a circuit of the fleet before landing. Italian and Japanese battleships have recently joined the fleet, and will also be illuminated. In addition to the daily night boat sailing at 6:30 a. m. from Washington, steamer sails at 8 a. m. on the even dates of the month, giving tourists a daylight view of the Potomac, Chesapeake, and Hampton Roads. Both day and night steamers land directly at the exposition pier.

Cheap Excursion to Harpers Ferry, Martinsburg, Berkeley Springs, and Cumberland, 8:05 a. m. Sunday, May 12, from Baltimore & Ohio station, Washington, D. C. Round trip rate to Harpers Ferry and Martinsburg, $1.00; to Berkeley Springs, $1.35; to Cumberland, $2.00. A splendid opportunity to spend a day in the country at small expense.

RODGERS PLEASED WITH TRANSFER

J. LINN RODGERS,
To Be Consul General at Havana.

Shanghai Consul General Likes Prospect of Havana.

Col. J. Linn Rodgers, of Ohio, is to be consul general at Havana, Cuba. He is now finishing up his work as consul general at Shanghai, China, and will be glad of a port nearer home. He was private secretary to Governor Bushnell. Originally a newspaper man in Columbus, Colonel Rodgers made many friends. For a time he essayed business after his experience in the governor's office, but the allurements of public life brought him into the consular service. His transfer to Cuba was much to his liking. He is a family man and his wife and babies do not like the exile of Shanghai. He has had charge of the supplies donated by Americans for the starving horde of Chinese provinces. He will probably remain at his old post until the new consul general, Denby, arrives.

ARCHITECTS TO EXHIBIT DRAWINGS OF ATELIER

Tonight, from 8 to 11 o'clock, the Washington Architectural Club will hold an exhibition of Atelier drawings at their rooms, 729 Fifteenth street northwest. Members and their friends are invited to be present.

There may be such things as uninteresting and unimportant store advertisements—but there are none in this newspaper. In nine cases out of ten where it is decided that "there's something wrong" about store advertising, the advertiser is told to get the AMOUNT OF SPACE USED, rather than the matter itself. Your advertising is probably good enough—so make it BIG enough, and it will win.

NEW OPERA HOUSE BY JANUARY FIRST

—If

Hammerstein Signs Agreement and Asks Contributions for Site.

Oscar Hammerstein, the noted impresario, of New York, has signed an agreement to erect in Washington by January 1 next a $400,000 opera house, if Washington people will raise by June 15, $200,000 for the purchase of a site for it, and will give him the site unreservedly.

He proposes to call the new opera house the "National Opera House." The plan to raise the $200,000 for the site is to ask forty wealthy society people of this city to contribute each $5,000. In case the money for the site is not raised by June 15, the erection of the structure will be postponed until next autumn. But it is thought by those interested in the matter that there will be little trouble in raising the fund by June 15.

MANILA ELECTION ALARMS CAPITAL

From a trustworthy source it is learned that various foreign representatives have laid before the State Department protests from countrymen in Manila against reorganization of the city council as an elective body. This would put the Philippines in control of the government of the city.

The foreigners claim that more than three-fourths of the wealth of the Philippine capital belongs to foreigners and Americans and an elective council would expose the wealth of the Philippine capital to the control of the natives. A feeling of distrust in the home offices of firms represented there. This feeling has been greatly accentuated by the foreign attitude of the native press, which has declared that no American is wanted at the City Hall. This is taken as the real attitude of the natives.

DAIRYMEN RESOLVE TO SELL PURE MILK

The Dairymen's Association of the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia held a star chamber session last night in the Openheimer building, 314 F street northwest, from which representatives of the press were excluded. The resolutions of the association were represented by reporters, who were given a set of resolutions roughly drawn and which they were told would be adopted by the meeting.

The resolutions express the desire of the association to furnish absolutely pure milk; that each member assist the health officer in bringing about just regulations governing dairies and dairy farms; that all unjust regulations be contested before the health officer, and that each member give his assistance in maintaining a high quality of milk and cream for the good of the people.

Asked if the Horner letter addressed to the Milk Commission would be endorsed, the president of the association said he did not know.

PRESENT JEFFERSON WITH LOVING CUP

Entering his dressing room last night at the New National Theater, Thomas Jefferson, the actor, was surprised to find awaiting him a gift from the Kendall School for the Deaf, at Kendall, D. C. in the shape of a handsome loving cup. The gift was accompanied by a letter of gratitude from about forty of the Kendall school pupils, who, together with school children from the public schools and several other institutions, were the guests of Mr. Jefferson at a matinee on Wednesday afternoon in his well-known presentation of "Rip Van Winkle."

One clause of this letter reads: "We are deaf, but we understood your play and enjoyed it much. Who taught you to make signs?"

The cup is artistically designed and made of solid silver. On one side is engraved the school name and on the other "Thomas Jefferson, 1907."

HOUSE WASH BILL; BIDS FOR TOWELS

For the washing of towels that dry the legislative hands on the House side of the Capitol, bids have been asked by Chief Clerk Browning, of the House of Representatives. The bids will be opened with much pomp and ceremony on the 25th of this month.

It is no slight thing, this awarding of the contract for the washing of the Congressional towels. For, be it known, the Representatives' of the people and their henchmen used in one month last session 32,315 hand towels and 1,617 bath towels, a grand total of 33,932.

Last year Mr. Browning succeeded in making a contract with a Washington laundry whereby the towels were washed at the rate of 25 cents per 100. He hopes to get even a better rate this spring.

The bills for washing towels for the three full months of December, January, and February, in last session, amounted to $170. Next session, which will be a six-month term, will call for even more washing. When towels are used at the rate of 34,000 per month, the bills are necessarily large.

As has been said, "cleanliness is next to godliness." It would seem from the towel list that the House of Representatives is far up in the scale of righteousness.

MOORE IN CHARGE OF PATENT OFFICE

Edward B. Moore, since May, 1899, Assistant Commissioner of Patents, has been appointed by the President to be Commissioner, succeeding Commissioner Allen, who resigned recently to resume the practice of law. The appointment of Mr. Moore was a most happy one. The news spread through the Patent Office about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and in a few minutes the office of the Assistant Commissioner of Patents was crowded by clerks—men and women—who came to tender him congratulations on his promotion. Many of those who shook Mr. Moore's hand in sincere friendship entered the Patent Office with the new Commissioner in June, 1883, when the latter entered upon the duties of a $1,200 clerkship. Mr. Moore has served continuously in the Patent Office, his rise being gradual. He was a fourth assistant examiner, law clerk, principal examiner, and then Assistant Commissioner of Patents. In 1900 Mr. Moore represented the United States Patent Office at the Paris Exposition.

The new Commissioner of Patents was born in Michigan some fifty odd years ago. He is well known in the Wolverine State and has many powerful friends.
